Kenya Healthcare Federation (KHF) Engages National Hospital Insurance Fund (NHIF) on Their New Roll Out Schemes.

The health sector in Kenya relies on several sources of funding: public (government), private firms, households and donors (including faith-based organizations and NGOs) as well as health insurance schemes. Unfortunately, limitations in implementing an overall healthcare financing strategy has hindered effective planning, budgeting and provision of health services. The private health sector, represented by KHF, through its Healthcare Financing Committee members had an engagement meeting with NHIF on 14th July 2016 at Sarova Panafric Hotel to discuss the issues surrounding the new schemes NHIF had just rolled out.

Some of the issues raised by the private sector were: 1) NHIF outpatient capitation rates and benefits package; 2) Relevant and effective communication and education on NHIF; 3) Contractual obligation; 4) Principal members and their dependents; 5) Different NHIF schemes; 6) NHIF Regulation; 7) NHIF OP/IP Providers; 8) OP Benefits/package and accreditation; 9) IP rebates and enhanced benefits, 10) UHC Focus; and 11) NHIF rate for the poor.

Speaking during the meeting Mr. Geoffrey Mwangi Ag. CEO NHIF responded on each of the above concerns from the private sector stating NHIF's willingness to open up and support the agenda raised in this forum to improve health service delivery in Kenya.

NHIF Schemes

The civil servant schemes has been appreciated by many, including the county governments. It has opened many doors that has enabled sustainable revenue to deliver UHC. For HISP and the elderly scheme to work, the government should organize for care for the less fortunate as NHIF ensures that the formal and informal sectors pay their contributions

NHIF Members

Mr. Geoffrey indicated that all NHIF members and their dependents are registered except those who have not declared their dependents. The current number of registered members who have declared their members are 13 Million. NHIF is working on initiatives to teach the public and enhance their ability to declare their dependents during NHIF registration.

NHIF Regulation

The NHIF act is an ongoing work. NHIF is working towards responsiveness to ensure that members can declare their benefits easily and faster.

Payment

NHIF has approached KRA to sort out and advice on the double withholding tax on specialist doctors both by NHIF and hospitals.

Providers

Mr. Geoffrey also confirmed that accreditation ended up in NHIF by default. In the future, a body will be contracted to conduct accreditation. The current benefits package was designed to respond to the cry of the people.

UHC Focus

The government, though NHIF, is working towards generating enough resources to support the healthcare financing state of the poor and the elderly.

Capitation Rates

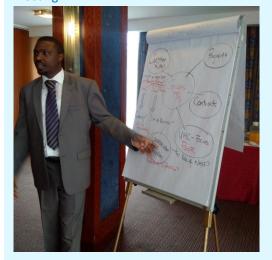

The capitation rate is dependent on the clients, the quality of service, the population type and level of facility. The current capitation rate was worked out from a simple matrix from the total cost of outpatient visitation and the probability of outpatient numbers visitation using 48% of NHIF members. NHIF is working towards defining the other high-end condition package with the available resources.

Due to different population size per county, the private sector suggested that the capitation rate be calculated at the county level. This was appreciated by NHIF saying it's an ongoing process that has started at the national level.

NHIF also informed that the meeting of the CDF Act has been revised to utilize 10% to provide for social protection. This means that the constituencies are able to cater for 10, 000 of poor people and ensure that a group who was not able to pay for NHIF are covered.

The private health sector is working closely with NHIF to bridge the gap on healthcare financing based on the issues discussed.

KHF Partners with IBM to Research and Address Management of Chronic Conditions

Kenya Healthcare Federation in partnership with the IBM Healthcare, is in the process of conducting a research study to better understand the current management of chronic conditions (specifically hypertension and diabetes) in Kenya, and the perceived challenges by healthcare providers in offering best practice care pathways. The number of NCDs in Kenya is increasing drastically and KHF realizes that there is a need to get insight on the prevalence, incidence and management of these type of "lifestyle" or chronic diseases. The aim of the project is to document the current management and perceived challenges and then have the project report reviewed by a select group of representatives of Kenya healthcare specialists to discuss potential solutions to these challenges.

The project, which is ongoing, has seen KHF and IBM visit various low, medium and high level hospitals, clinics, and pharmacies to find out the current status of the management of chronic diseases, and hypertension in particular. The team has been working on a small-scale research study to get more information in regard to: What type of treatments/schedules are currently being followed by patients? What are the challenges that are being perceived at clinical level when it comes to chronic disease management? And what technology/record keeping is used in the management of patients with hypertension?

The research study, which is expected to complete in October, is progressing well and among the listed facilities AAR Clinic, Gertrude's Children Hospital, Metropolitan Hospital, MP Shah Hospital, Karen Hospital and Pharmacy, Melchizedek Hospital, Nairobi Meridian Hospital, Avenue Healthcare and Pharmacy, Tunza Clinic in Githurai, Access Afya Clinic and Pharmacy, Tai Medical Clinic, Haltons Pharmacy, and Good Life Pharmacy have been visited.

Apart from the overall report, based on the project objective, KHF is also compiling a brief individual report on how the facilities rates compared to the best practices guidelines for patients with hypertension and a summary identifying critical areas of chronic disease management.

KHF Visits Kisii and Mombasa Counties.

Kenya Healthcare Federation has grown steadily, bringing together a diverse group of private healthcare organizations to network, learn and reason together as a unified voice. KHF has in the past two months visited Kisii and Mombasa Counties as part of its strategic plans to expand its services to the county level.

KHF members present in the Kisii and Mombasa area and KHF potential members from the regions participated in the exclusive meetings that was held at Dans Hotel Kisii on the 15th July 2016 and Bliss Resort Mombasa on the 25th August 2016 to welcome the KHF team to the counties.

The meetings' main aim was to introduce KHF to the counties, hear from KHF members in the counties and to highlight the major healthcare issues affecting private organizations at the county level.

KHF Meeting in Kisii County

KHF Directors charged with business development Sam Agutu of MIPAK and Dr Bola Tafawa of Equity Group Foundation took charge of the meetings, presenting information about KHF, the different membership categories and membership benefits and major recent achievements of KHF. The KHF Mombasa Chapter meeting was led by Nyali Healthcare - a KHF memberwhile the Kisii chapter was led by Kisii Eye Hospital. KHF will soon be visiting Kisumu County and our champion on ground- Kisumu Medical and Education Trust (KMET)- is ready to welcome KHF to Kisumu County.

Dr Solomon Omache- KAPH, Monica Oguttu – KMET, Dr Dan Kiage – Kisii Eye Hospital (Present at the Kisii meeting)

KHF potential and existing members in these counties raised a number of healthcare concerns, affecting the industry at the county level. A few of these concerns include: Regulation of healthcare equipment, enactment of healthcare bills at national level, access to pharmaceuticals and medical equipment, and taxation on drugs that are donated to the poor and NHIF not being adequate despite the rural hospital dependency on them. In the counties, healthcare demand trends are changing and there is an increased willingness of the growing Kenyan population at county level to pay for better treatment, which has opened doors to the private health sector. Thus, the private sector, under stewardship of KHF, has to play a new role in providing improved healthcare at the county level.

Dr Bola Tafawa and Sam Agutu – KHF Directors

KHF will continuously engage the government in policy formulation meetings to voice the support and concerns of the private sector and provide alternative solutions to issues facing the health sector.
